We are back to media outlets getting subsidies from the Federal Government. Abderdeen Publishing operates out of parts of British Columbia and Alberta. It has publications in:

- Columbia Valley Pioneer
- Jasper Fitzhugh
- Kamloops This Week

- The Local Weekly
- Merritt Herald
- Peachland View
- Oliver Chronicle
- Osoyoos Times

Many mistakenly believe that the smaller outlets are independent and autonomous. However, that doesn’t really reflect reality. A quick search shows exactly who has been getting grants, and in what amounts.

TIME PERIOD	OUTLET	AMOUNT
Apr. 1, 2020 – Mar. 31, 2021	The Local Weekly	$90,375
Apr. 1, 2020 – Mar. 31, 2021	Jasper Fitzhugh	$56,301
Apr. 1, 2020 – Mar. 31, 2021	Peachland View	$44,418
Apr. 1, 2020 – Mar. 31, 2021	Oliver Chronicle	$16,789
Apr. 1, 2020 – Mar. 31, 2021	Oliver Chronicle	$5,000
Apr. 1, 2020 – Mar. 31, 2021	Osoyoos Times	$32,342
Apr. 1, 2020 – Mar. 31, 2021	Osoyoos Times	$8,086

TIME PERIOD	OUTLET	AMOUNT
Jul. 8, 2013	Osoyoos Times	$29,170
Aug. 12, 2014	Osoyoos Times	$28,090
Jun. 1, 2016	Osoyoos Times	$30,317
Jun. 1, 2016	Oliver Chronicle	$27,857
Jul. 4, 2017	Osoyoos Times	$35,242
Jul. 4, 2017	Oliver Chronicle	$28,696
Apr. 1, 2018 – Mar. 31, 2019	Osoyoos Times	$35,102
Apr. 1, 2019 – Mar. 31, 2020	Oliver Chronicle	$16,789

Apr. 1, 2019 – Mar. 31, 2020	Osoyoos Times	$32,342

It’s also interesting that this group has gotten about as much money in 2020 as it did (combined) in the decade preceding it. One can draw the obvious inferences.

As shown in the previous articles with Postmedia, it’s staggering just how many “independent” media companies are on the receiving end of Government handouts. It could explain why they are so willing to gaslight critics of Government policies as conspiracy nuts.

None of this is difficult to find. However, it requires hard truths to be addressed.

As I am frequently VERY impressed with the information offered by the Canuck Law postings, I want to share the information with fellow Canadians, Important information deserves to be spread to others. HOW might be the best way to do that??? This post as an excellent example needs to spread out to people.

Hello.

Thank you, and glad you like the content.

I don’t have a magic solution to this, but any additional exposure would help, however it comes about.
